DESIGN PRINCIPLE

Each profile receives only the features required for its approved work, contractual authority, tenant membership, assigned cases, and explicit record shares. Feature visibility is not authorization: server-side tenant, role, assignment, and share checks remain mandatory.

PROVISIONING DECISION FLOW

1. Classify entity and legal/contract relationship.
2. Identify tenant and administrator authority.
3. Capture specialty, industry, requested services, and employment-partner program choices.
4. Evaluate contract limits, assignment boundaries, record shares, and data sensitivity.
5. Provision only relevant workspace features.
6. Re-review permissions when a user changes role, employer, tenant, contract status, or assignment.

SECURITY CONTROLS

- â€¢ Tenant ID included in every tenant-owned query.
- â€¢ Counselor access limited to assigned cases unless tenant admin authority is explicitly granted.
- â€¢ External entities use record-level shares; access expires when the relationship ends.
- â€¢ Corporate Master Admin controls platform/contract administration but does not receive tenant PHI by default.
- â€¢ UI visibility is supplemented by API/database authorization enforcement.
